Redding, CA Plant Holds Safety Slogan Contest for 2007

In the lab, while conducting safe practices, Rusty Clines developed a winning contest entry.

The Safety Committee at Lehigh Southwest Cement in Redding conducted a Safety Slogan Contest in December 2006. The contest generated lively participation. Out of 94 entries, four winners were selected. A safety poster will be made with each of the slogans, one per quarter.

Each winner will receive a $100 gift certificate to the store of his choice. Rusty Clines, Lab Analyst, entered the following winning entry: "Safe Today – Here Tomorrow."

Andrew Marlar, Laborer, submitted the following three winning entries:
"Only Fools Break Safety Rules," "Safety is Something You Can Take Home," and "Safety Never Takes a Holiday."

A man with plenty of ideas about safety, Andrew Marlar composed three winning safety slogans for the Redding Plant.

In an effort to heighten safety awareness prior to the winter outage the plant will hold a safety luncheon. Members of the Safety Committee will review procedures for mucking out the kiln, fall protection, working safely in the cooler tubes and lockout tag out procedures. At the luncheon, all employees will receive hard hat stickers featuring the first winning safety slogan: Safe Today – Here Tomorrow.
