Inland Concrete Edmonton Receives Award for Environmental Protection & Occupational Safety

On October 20, 2006, the Sherwood Park Chamber of Commerce presented Scott Emerson, Area Manager, and Corey Stasiuk, Operations Manager, with an award recognizing Inland Concrete's Sherwood Park Plant's commitment to environment and safety.

The award was given for excellence in environmental solutions and workplace safety programs such as the following:

- Installation and use of the concrete reclaimer
- Manufacture of concrete blocks from leftover concrete
- Dust collection system
- Use of dust suppressant in the plant's yard
- Implementation of an Environmental Management System
- Use of the Envirowash system on each truck
- Training programs for employees including Construction Safety Officer, First Aid, Confined Space, Fall Arrest, Professional Driver Improvement Course, Air Brake Course, Environmental Protection and Occupational Health & Safety Legislation
- Hazard Assessment program to identify and control hazards on work sites
- Jobsite safety inspections and monthly plant safety inspections
- Monthly safety meetings

"It is an honor to be recognized in this category as we believe that these programs are important not only because we want each of our employees to return safely to their homes every night, but we also want to do our part to protect the environment for future generations," explained Emerson.
