Employees Complete LAMP Training Program

Pictured at left are the most recent graduates of the Lehigh Applied Management Program (LAMP). LAMP is a three-year program run in partnership with the Iacocca Institute at Lehigh University, Bethlehem PA. The custom-developed curriculum is specific to the construction materials industry. During the concentrated one-week sessions, instructors and speakers from Lehigh Cement, Lehigh University, and industry and international leaders facilitate discussion and discuss key topics and challenges facing our businesses. This group, which completed the program in March, is the third class of Lehigh Cement employees to have graduated from LAMP since 2005.
